HANCELLOR CUNO'S PEECH WAS DEVOID NY NEW UTTERANCES

ys German Government Cannot Assume Initiative So Long as Powers Continue Hostile Occupation of Territory Which is Immune—Speech is Lengthy Protest

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, March 6.—Chancellor Cuno's keenly awaited eech before the reichstag today was devoid of new and nificant utterances in connection with the Ruhr situan beyond the statement that Germany had not, directly or indirectly suggested the inauguration of negotiations th the occupying powers and that all rumors to this eft were without authoritative basis.

Germany, said the chancellor, could not negotiate "in ew of the situation created in the Rhineland and Ruhr ru the Franco-Belgian transgressions."

He intimated that so long as the invading powers conued their armed violation of German sovereignty and aintained, and even extended their hostile occupation German territory which was immune by virtue of the ersailles treaty, the German government could not be pected to assume the initiative in respect of any action oking to settlement of the present conflict.

The chancellor's speech took the form of a lengthy protest in which he recapitulates in detail the situation growing out of the occupation of the Ruhr from the first day and the more recent invasion of points in Baden. He was frequently interrupted by expressions of indigation as he recited the number of arrests, convictions, evictions and deportations of German officials who refused to carry out the orders of the occupation authorities.

The Franco-Belgian expedition into the Ruhr, he said had thus far resolved itself into a dismal economic failure, the gains from which suggested a doubtful offset to the alleged German delinquencies in the payment of reparations.

In the course of his speech the chancellor described the French decree imposing the death penalty in cases where rail transportation was seriously endangered by the actions or abstentions of railway officials as "an act of terrorism against the German railwaymen, compelling them by brutal penalties to be false to their oath to German sovereignty."

France had experienced disappointment in all her economic calculations and had met with failure in all her political schemes, he said but she remained logical in her application of violence and this had produced between the two neighboring countries a degree of hatred that would be difficult to remove.

The peace that had been imposed upon Germany, and to fulfill which Germany had literally impoverished herself, had been trodden under foot by France without one of the numerous signatories of the treaty moving a finger.

"Yet," he added, "the French action is as much directed against the peace instrument devised by the powers as it is against Germany. No wonder the minds of the German people are keyed to almost intolerable tension. If terrible danger is not to arise we must again point out the wrong which has been done and warn the world without delay. For this reason I abandon my journey to Munich."

Referring to the occupation of Munich, Karlsruhe and Darmstadt, he said that, had such action occurred elsewhere among civilized nations the world would have seethed with indignation but since Germany was the sufferer it was considered as merely a small extension of the Ruhr action and unworthy of particular notice.

Declaring his intention to speak quite openly "having nothing to conceal," the chancellor recalled the French declaration repudiating political motives for the occupation and said:

"Against that declaration we now have the reality. The so-called 'restricted' employment of soldiers comprises five divisions, with two commanding generals, about 75 tanks and a hundred airplanes."

Herr Cuno complained that the interallied Rhineland high commission had placed itself at the service of French violence, issuing decrees without bothering itself about legal grounds.

Pass on Vacancies, Sick Leaves and Holidays

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, March 6.—Rulings or the first time on vacancies, ick leaves, Saturday afternoon, Sunday and holiday work for lerks, freight handlers, express and station employes were contained in a decision handed down oday by the United States railroad labor board.

While the decision was on a dispute involving only employes on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, the rulings will be taken as precedent in making agreements on other lines.

By the decision clerks who on January 1, had been in continuous service of the carrier one year or more will be granted annual vacations with pay provided the work is kept up by other clerks and there is no expense to the carrier involved in granting the vacations.

Clerks in service continuously one year and less than two will receive one week or six working days, those in service two years and less than three years, ten days, or nine working days; those in service three years or over two weeks or twelve working days.

Where the work of an employe is kept up by other employes without cost to the carrier a clerk who has been in continuous service one year and less than two will not have deductions for time absent on a bona fide sickness until he has been absent six working days. Deductions will be made beyond the time allottment specified.

Dublin, March 6.—Francis J. Lowe, secretary of the Friends of the Irish Free State in the United States predicted again today that peace could be arranged by St. St. Patrick's Day if the free state government would extend amnesty to the irregulars.

DISCUSSION OF HOSPITAL SERVICE

Chicago, Mach 6.—Discussion of hospital service and appurtenances occupied physicians attending the annual conferences on medical education, medical licensure, public health and hospitals here today.

Dr. S. S. Goldwater of New York in a naddress asserted hospitals were going too far in making internes out of assistants and classifying all non-medical assistants so they could not meddle with the duties of other assistants.

Dr. C. P. Howard, professor of medicine in the State University of Iowa College of Medicine, also spoke today.

ENGLISH SPEAKING PEOPLE MUST JOIN TO SAVE THE WORLD

Stanley Baldwin Believes Time Will Soon Come

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, March 6—The conviction that the time surely was coming, tho not just yet, when the English speaking peoples would be driven by course of world events to join hands and save the world economically and restore international trade without which Great Britain, especially could not prosper or succeed was expressed today by Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer, at the annual conference of the women's parliamentary committee of the nationalist unionist association.

Mr. Baldwin was of the opinion that it was not a dream to forsee in the future world peace guaranteed by these two same peoples and that they would maintain it as the only powers whose interests were world wide whose financial strength was unimpaired and whose ideals tended far more to peace and the elevation of mankind than to militarism and fighting.

The chancellor asserted that most of the problems today were economic and that the greatest economic power of the world rested with the English-speaking peoples.

HOOVER CALLS CONFERENCE ON BROADCASTING

May Take Action to Extend Field of Wireless

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Another conference to consider what administrative action may be taken to extend the field of wireless broadcasting and to reduce interference was called today by Secretary Hoover to be held here beginning Tuesday, March 20. Manufacturers of radio apparatus, operators of broadcasting stations and others interested have been invited.

At a conference held a year ago recommendations were adopted for federal legislation upon the subject, but the bill incorporating these suggestions failed of enactment by congress.

Since the last conference Mr. Hoover said the number of broadcasting stations has increased from 60 to 581 and somewhere between 1,500,000 and 2,500,000 receiving stations are in use. Interference, he added, has increased greatly particularly since the sending stations are restricted to the 360 and 400 meter lengths.

As one method of straightening out the confusion, the secretary said it has been suggested that the navy department be asked to give up a part of its present control of the bands of wave lengths above six hundred meters. There are a number of universities and educational institutions, equipped for radio sending or which can be so equipped on the 800 meter bands, he added and since stations for receipt of this type of educational broadcasting might also be easily specialized to function for such a wave length, this radio area might be set apart for education exclusively.

GIRL'S TEMPERATURE BREAKS THERMOMETERS

(By The Associated Press)

ESCANABA, Mich, March 6—Efforts to take the temperature today of Miss Evelyn Lyons, whose strange case has baffled science by her retention for two weeks of a temperature of 114 degrees, failed today when the attending physicians' thermometer broke

Miss Lyons complained to Dr. H. F. Defnet, her doctor, that she felt more feverish. Medical thermometers are not graduated above 114 degrees but Doctor Defnet attempted to take the girl's temperature with one which has been equipped with emergency markings above that point.

The attempt failed when the expanding mercury reached the top of the tube and blew the end off. Dr. Defnet estimated the girl's temperature today at 118 degrees.

Despite her strange malady the girl remains rational, with a good appetite and resents orders to remain in bed.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S AUNT PASSES AWAY

Marion, Ohio, March 6—Mrs. Priscilla Flack, 90, sister of President Harding's mother, died today at Mount Vernon Ohio, according to word received by Geo. T. Harding, the president's father. She was the widow of Abner Flack and was born at Corsica, Morrow County, where President Harding was born.

Taxes on Farm Lands More Than Doubled

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Taxes on farm lands have more than doubled in the eight years from 1914 to 1922.

A canvass of the department of agriculture just completed shows the average amount of state, county and local taxes paid by farmers thruout the country in 1922 to have been 70.9 cents per acre compared with 31.4 cents in 1914. This was an increase of 12 6per cent in the eight years. The canvass disclosed that roads and public schools were the principal causes of the increased taxes.

New Jersey farmers were paying the highest taxes in 1922 with an average of $2.22 per acre compared with 96 cents in 1914, an increase of 133 per cent. Arizona farmers were paying the lowest taxes, 7 cents per acre, which was the same as paid in 1914.

In Iowa, premier farm products state of the union, farmers were paying an average of $1.49 compared with 68 cents in 1914, an increase of 120 per cent.

In Texas, second farm production state, the 1922 average was 35 cents an acre, compared with 17 cents in 1914, an increase of 114 pe rcent.

The largest increase was in Arkansas, with a jump of 160 per cent, the 1922 taxes averaging 66 cents per acre compared with 18 cents in 1914.

Response to the inquiry as to taxation was larger and more complete than any special questionnaire sent out, department of agriculture officials stated, indicating that the farmers of the country were anxious to set forth

CAVALRY TROOP JOINS IN HUNT FOR DEPUTIES

Posse of More Than Thousand Men Search for Missing Men

(By The Associated Press)

FRANKLINTON, La., March 6. Members of a troop of cavalry from Bogalusa today joined the posse of more than a thousand men searching for two deputy sheriffs, Wiley Pierce and Wesley Crain, missing since last Friday when they went into the swamps between this place and Bogalusa to raid a moonshine still and are believed by the authorities to have been slain in the attempt.

Eight men residing in the vicinity of the still, have been lodged in jail here suspected of knowing something about the disappearance of the two officers. The cavalrymen volunteered as individuals and joined the hundreds of men who flocked here today from all parts of Wshington parish to assist the authorities in the search. The posse gathered at the court house here this morning. Some brought bloodhounds and others bird dogs. All were well armed when they marhed east toward Bogalusa to explore every part of the woods and swamp.

The sheriff said when he and his party searching for the missing officers came upon the spot where the still was located in the center of a swamp they found the still had been practically destroyed. There was evidence of a terrific struggle in and about the still which led him to believe the depties had surprised the moonshiners and had been attacked.

DRASTIC PROHI LAWS ARE PASSED

(By The Associated Press)

DDES MOINES. Iowa, March 6.—The Iowa senate today passed two drastic prohibition enforcement bills—making it five such bills enacted by that house so far this session. One prescribes that "the manufacture, possession or use of materials used in the manufacture of intoxicating liquor shall be unlawful."

Senators interprpet it to mean that owners of kitchen stills could be prosecuted and also grocers who sell canned malt and package hope. The other bill decrees that a person twice convicted of any liquor crimes shall be deemed a persistent violator and be subject to a penitentiary sentence. Liquor bills previously passed by the senate include one decreeing that deaths from poison liquor shall make the seller of the liquor guilty of manslaughter, providing that vehicles used to transport liquor shall be confiscated and providing that $1,000 fine or a year in jail shall be the penalty for driving an automobile while intoxicated.

ROUND UP OF PACKERS WILL BE ARRANGED

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, March 6—A roundup of packers, commission men and producers will be arranged by Howard Gore one of the packers and stock yards arbitrators now hearing commission rate testimony at the close of the present hearing, it was announced today for the purpose of producing better feeling and obtaining cooperation of all concerned.

A. L. James of Buckingham, Iowa, a witness today declared that the producer is not obtaining a sufficient slice of the consumers' dollar and that transportation is too expensive. He explained the latter statement by saying that shrinkage in transit is largely due to delayed shipment declaring that formerly where a shipment from Buckingham to Chicago required a day it now consumes approximately two days.

NATIONS MUST BE CONVINCED THAT LYING DOESN'T PAY

Press Congress Committee Issued Statement Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 6.—A statement urging unrestricted transmission of news was issued by the executive committee of the press congress of the world, following a meeting here today.

"Before the next war comes, if it comes, governments and nations must be convinced that, in the long run, lying does not pay,' the statement asserted.

"The issue of a free press and of unrestricted transmission of news vitally concerns nations, governments and peoples and not chiefly journalists," the statement declares. "Before the next war comes, if it comes, governments and nations must be convinced that in the long run, lying does not pay. It does not pay even in peace time and realization of that fact may prevent or postpone the next war. So long as in virtually every nation there is more or less popular influence on foreign policy, freedom of communication and publication is an absolute necessity to intelligent direction of international affairs."

The committee decided to hold the 1924 triennial convention of the congress in Europe.

WOMAN ENGAGED IN HIGH FINANCE

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 6.—Miss Myra Cleveland Hill Sims, who was accused of having used the name of Secretary Hoover in an effort to promote the World Radio Corporation, was convicted of grand larceny late today by a jury which heard complaints of investors in World Radio stock.

Mrs. Emily Thompson, a beauty parlor employe, the principal witness against Mrs. Sims testified she had given the defendant $500 to invest in stock of the World Radio Corporation on her representation that Secretary Hoover was to become president of the corporation.

Mrs. Thompson's sister, Eva Hanson and Mrs. Elizabeth Wright, also were said to have invested in the belief that Mr. Hoover was president of the corporation. The three women who gave Mrs. Sims approximately $7,500, testified that they had been given to understand by Mrs. Sims that she was the wife of a nephew of Rear Admiral Sims, a relative of the late President Grover Cleveland and also a relative of former Governor David B. Hill of New York. Mrs. Sims will be sentenced on March 13.

AUTO PRICES MAY SHOW SOME INCREASE

New York, March 6.—If the present trend in material and labor costs continues automobile prices will show some increase in the near future, Alvin McAuley, president of the Packard Motor Car company, declared today. While the upward trend of steel, iron, aluminum, copper, leather, rubber and other materials points to an increase in the cost of producing automobiles, the critical factor, Mr. McAuley said is the fact that deliveries particularly in steel, can only be obtained by the payment of a premium.

DISSOLUTION OF ASSOCIATION ASKED

Grand Rapids, Mich., Merch 6.—Dissolution of the Maple Flooring Manufacturers' Association with members in Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois and other states, is asked in a petition filed in United States district court here today by United States District Attorney E. J. Bowman on behalf of Attorney General Daugherty. The dissolution is sought on the ground that the association is an unlawful combination in restraint of trade as defined in the Sherman anti-trust law.

COMMISSION ON FLEXIBLE TARIFF IS IN DEADLOCK

President May Try to Straighten Out the Tangle

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Virtually deadlocked over the procedure to be adopted in administering controversial features of the flexible tariffi the tariff commission has decided for the present to leave that phase of its work in abeyance and to investigate only those rate applications on which the commissioners are more or less in agreement.

A series of investigations on twenty-five or thirty commodities has been agreed upon, the applications involved being selected from more than a hundred which have been filed with the commission. Some members of the commission feel, however, it was asserted today, that the agency should go ahead on its own initiative and investigate such rates as in a general way would determine whether discriminations are being worked by the law.

President Harding is aware of the split in the commission and it was stated will be asked on his return from Florida to determine the question of policy as to whether it was the intent of congress that, under section 315 of the law, it intended for the commission to employ its own initiative or to investigate complaints only as represented by applications for changes.

It was hinted in some quarters that one or two resignations may come unless the deadlock is broken.

Believes Law Has Done Good.

Chairman Marvin declared today that while undoubtedly some were dissatisfied with the law he felt that it was doing the whole country a great deal of good. He pointed to record treasury receipts from customs revenues and indications that the twelve months ending June 30 would see more than half a billion dollars paid in as the import taxes. Instances where rates are too high or too low may exist the chairman argued and he said the commission should deal with them when they are disclosed and not attempt a sweeping study of the rates as proposed by William S. Culbertson, a Republican member.

Mr. Culbertson's argument in the commission meetings was said to have been that it should regard itself as the spokesman for 'for unorganized mass of the people" he claimed it was vitally affected as that of importers or domestic manufacturers. He was declared to have said that congress when it wrote the flexible provisions in the law and coupled them with the inquisitorial powers of section 315 had no thought of tariff revision for several years ahead hence it provided for a continued scientific study to be made and gave room for rectification of any defects thus discovered by the commission.

INTEND TO WEAR OUT THE GERMANS

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, March 6—The decision of the minister of war to keep the class of 1921 under the colors until the end of May, together with the project for six months volunteers, is interpreted in some quarters as another indication of the government's determination to wear out the Germans and also a sign that the government is convinced that the Germans will make every effort to continue their resistance. It is officially intimated that there is no reason for any alarming interpretation of these military precautions.

It is a matter of simple precaution, it was explained to hold trained troops until new troops are trained Suggestions of foreign mediation were discounted several days ago by the statement that under no condition would mediation or proposals be entertained except direct official proposals from Germany concerning her willingness to pay reparations.

It was officially reiterated today that the French have no imperialistic intention such as annexing the Ruhr. It was pointed out that the Germans have money for carrying on Ruhr resistence and buying coal in England and raw materials in other countries, but none for reparations

NOT ENOUGH POLICE TO CLOSE HOUSES

Chicago, March 6—The first 24 hours under Chief of Police Fitzmorris' order to close up all disorderly houses ended tonight without enough police to enforce it.

Commanding officers in four precincts asked for 573 additional men to guard front and back doors of suspected resorts, in accordance with the chief's order that watch should be maintained day and night to keep patrons from entering. Only 155 men were available.

CIVILIZATION IN U. S. IS TENDING TOWARD JUNGLE HOOPER SAYS

Declares Advocacy of Force in Settlement of Industrial Controversies is One of the Indications—Pressure Against Employers in Reality is Against the Public

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 6.—A distinct movement of civilization in this country backwards toward the jungle is manifest today, Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the United States railroad labor board, declared here tonight before the Illinois Association of Insurance Agents.

"This is not the outbreak of an occasional individual or the sporadic upheaval of an isolated community," he declared. "It is the systematic, organized advocacy and use of force in the settlement of industrial controversies. Some of the proponents of this idea know, or should know where they are headed but millions of their followers know not what they do."

Some of the manifestations of these, he said, were strikes in essential industries, a railroad or coal strike, being economic pressure against the employer in theory, but in fact the real economic pressure is brought to bear against the consuming public.

"To characterize this process as civil warfare is not an exaggeration," he said. "Did it ever occur to you just how many of the earmarks of civil war the recent shop strike bore. The blockade, the sieges, bombs, firearms, murder, assault, arson, resistance to constituted authority all were there.

"One reason why strikes on railroads and other public utilities cannot be conducted without violence is because the organizations in substance and effect teach that violence is justifiable. This is done by the periodicals of these organizations continually hammering into the heads of their readers that no man has the right to take up the work which a striker has abandoned.

"You may think that the terms "scab" and "strike-breaker" are merely the impassioned opprobrium of an enraged mob. I have read in labor magazines the most serious arguments against the right of a man to do the work a striker has left and coupled with these arguments was the fiercest denunciation of the "scab" that language could express, placing him entirely outside the pale of human considera-tion.

It is this manner of preachment that caused the mob at Herrin, Ill, not only to shoot down their unarmed and helpless captives but to refuse them water to moisten their parched and dying throats. The same spirit that justified this massacre will justify whatever perjury is necessary to acquit the perpetrators.

"It is a weak government that does not provide some method for the adjustment of labor controversies in the essential industries without permitting them to be fought out between the immediate parties A government which stands by and permits capitial to oppress labor in these great essential industries and permits labor to wage civil war for the redress of its grievances real and imaginary invites and will ultimately encounter chaos

"There are millions of men in this country who have not lost faith in the government bequeathed to us by our fathers. It has had the strength and flexibility of fibre to withstand the shock of every storm Its adaptability to the changing conditions of men and things has been the marvel of the world. To the conservative it has given assurance; to the progressive opportunity. Today there is no problem of society or industry that cannot be solved within the four corners of the American constitution."

PRESIDENT PLAYS GOLF AT ORMOND

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., March 6.—After inaugurating his Florida vacation trip with eighteen holes of golf, President Harding left here late today on the McLean houseboat for New Smyrna, about twenty miles down the Indian river.

The plans of the chief executive and Mrs. Harding and of their hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. McLean of Washington during the houseboat voyage called for two hours of steady sailing, which would bring them at dark off New Smyrna, where it is expected another game of golf will be had tomorrow morning.

SNOW STORM BURIES NEW YORK CITY

New York, March 6.—The entire mechanical equipment of this city's street cleaning department as well as a force of 13,000 men were called on today to stem the advance of what was rekarded as the worst snow storm of the winter.

Snow began falling soon after 3 a. m., and continued without interruption until late this evening. It was said that the present storm would not precipitate a new coal crisis.

When the average man considers the man at the top, there is usually some quesiton as to how he got there. There is many times a doubt as to whether the climb was made on the square, or whether the successful one had an elevator. A study of the records of men at the top usually shows that they have reached their position by hard work, hard knocks and constant effort.

The war cost the world $210,000,000,000. Thre is approximately $18,000,000,000 worth of gold in the world. The total value of the world's silver cannot be much more than this amount. Any paper money that will buy anything must be backed by one of these two metals. Think a minute, and you will understand what has become of the financial systems of Germany, Austria and Russia.

Present day people need more of the virtue of self-reliance. Depending on others to do our thinking, planning and even deciding of important questions makes slaves of the majority of mankind. The exercise of self reliance would make a man less of a sucker and eleminate most of the swindlers, grafters and gold brick salesmen from society.

THE EYE OF THE BAT.

What would be the condition of the individual in this world if he had to go thru life with the conviction that an eye of mystery, whose owner he did not know or could not discover, was eternally watching him. In less time than it takes to tell it, the world would be one vast dwelling place of the insane. But the normal human being has faith and confidence. He trusts his environment and his fellow men. He also has inteligence. These are the foundations of a sane society. It is only where ignorance and suspicion and distrust hold sway that the eye of the bat dominates the individual.

On January 31 Victory Notes that had been called for redemption on December 15, 1922, were outstanding to the amount of over $107,000,000, and War Savings Stamps of the series of 1918 which fell due on January 1 were unpaid to the extent of $4,680,000. Interest on all those securities has ceased, and their owners are losing money every day by not turning them in to the Treasury and either taking cash for them or exchanging them for other interest-bearing securities. It is an evidence of prosperity that the people are not making a closer study of their investments, but hardly a tribute to their good judgment.

THE TERMS OF RECOGNITION.

The more we get the benefit of experience the more we are convinced of the wisdom of Secretary of State Hughes in laying down the conditions which must be precedent to any recognition of the Soviet government of Russia. The prerequisite was a demonstration on the part of the Lenin-Trotsky regime that it intends to recognize the binding obligation of contracts and to respect the rights of life and property. Not for one moment has the present administration of government in Russia shown any convincing signs of an intention to give either the people of Russia or the people of other nations a square deal.

Confiscation has been the basis of the Soviet government. Some pretense has been made that the policy of confiscation had been abandoned, but this was merely in the hopes of enticing new capital into the country in order that there might be something more to confiscate. The latest incident showing the true nature of the Soviet rule was the disclosure that while Russia is appealng for food for its hungry, the country is exporting grain in order to get money to support a militaristic government. That sort of thing should be definitely stopped.

THE NEW BAND.

In the organization of the new civic band in this community, Jacksonville citizens may find an opportunity which they have long sought, a chance to support a real community musical organization. The enterprise has the support and co-operation of many of the best musicians in this city and in surrounding communities. Its members are actuated in their move by a broad spirit of service to the community.

However, such an organization as this is designed to be cannot exists without the united and hearty support of the citizens. Uniforms must be provided for the members, and suitable quarters must also be secured. These are things which Jacksonville citizens can provide for an organization which plans to be for the community and to furnish a high grade of band music for its people.

J. Bart Johnson, the director of the band, is giving one year of service to the organization entirely without salary. Every member of the band is ready to follow the leader in quality and spirit of service rendered. Suih a spirit on the part of the leader and members of the band demands a like spirit on the part of those who will receive entertainment thru their efforts.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

THE TEST

By Berton Braley

HE'S "awfully good to his mother,"
And good to his family,
But somehow or someway or other,
That doesn't mean much to me.
The record that I'd be seeing
Conveniently compiled,
Is—Just how good is he being
To somebody else's mother,
And somebody else's brother,
And somebody else's sister,
And somebody else's child?

THE wolf in his cave will cherish
His cubs and his savage mate,
But leave all the rest to perish,
Oblivious of their fate;
But a Man—Well, a man's designed to
Be more than a beast that's wild;
And you ask—"Is he fair and kind to,
Say, somebody else's mother,
And somebody else's brother,
And somebody else's sister,
And somebody else's child?"

Bobbed hair was going out of style when King Tut's tomb was discovered under the sands of Egypt. But leading hairdressers say that bobbed hair may rule for another year or two, as part of the King Tut fashion crazes now being planned by dictators of styles.

Bobbed hair and bobbed wigs were "the thing" in King Tut's day.

Among the rich and royal ladies of Tut's time, the headdress was a masterpiece that must hae required weeks of work, elaborate and fantastic, hair and jewelry forming large wings on top of the head.

The high steppers and flashy dressers strung their hair through beads, giving the effect of a crop of necklaces growing out of the skull. Keep your eyes open. Some in our community will try it.

Girls who have been plucking their eyebrows into straight lines with tweezers, will be glad to learn that such was the style in King Tut's day.

"When it comes to gowns, the most daring Egyptian social leaders wore garments made entirely of transparent beads.

Starched and carefully pressed ruffles and pleats were the rage in Cairo and other Egyptian cities 3500 years ago.

Jewelry was worn extravagantly, profusely—large rings, bracelets, armlets, necklaces, anklets and head-bands. The turquoise was the most favored of precious stones. Fans were carried, also hand mirrors. Nails were stained reddish)-yellow with henna juice. "Loud" perfumes and thick oils were rubbed all oer the body.

A queer custom among fashionable ladies of ancient Egypt was painting a second set of eyebrows below the eyes, so that the optics recembled sandwiches.

How much if this barbaric oriental display will creep into the fashions of American women Probably more than any of us now dream.

J. M. Gidding (of J. M. Gidding & Co., New York City), says every great collection of Egyptian antiques in the world's museums has a flock of style designers and jewelers around it. They are getting ready to flood the markets with new styles.

Says Mr. Gidding: "This is being assisted by a reaction from the dress prevailing for so many years during and after the war. There has never been a time when the designer has had to keep so carefully in touch with the news. It is necessary to keep posted constantly by cable."

The average father, who foots the bills, will soon curse the day when a scientist's shoel, striking the top stone of a flight of steps, started the uncovering of King Tut's tomb.

WEDNESDAY
The Sacrifice of Love

"If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me." Mark 8:34.

Read Mark 8:31-9:1.

'Follow me. Remember my gentleness, my watchfulness, my consideration, my patience, my compassion, my readiness to help, my swiftness to heal, my gladness to sacrifice.'

MEDITATION: It is not by accident that one passes from a self-centered to an unselfish life, but by deliberate purpose.

HYMN:

Beneath the Cross of Jesus I
fain would take my stand,
The shadow of a mighty rock
within a weary land,
A home within the wilderness, a rest upon the way,
From the burning of the noontide heat, and the burden of the day.

PRAYER: O God, who art Love, grant to Thy children to bear one another's burdens in perfect good will, that thy peace which passeth understanding may keep our hearts and minds in Christ Jesus our Lord. Amen.

OLD JACKSONVILLE
JAMES H. GOUDY

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)
Member Illinois State Historical Society

Among the pioneers in getting hore, and in begining things, was Robert Goudy, who came here in 1833, issued the first Democratic newspaper in 1834, and established "Goudy's Almanac." He also did publishing and bookbinding. He published "Peck's Gazeteer of "Illinois," and his son Calvin published Wakefield's "History of the Black Hawk War," in 1834. About all of the family did more or less typographical work from roller-boy to publisher. William C., the great Chicago lawyer was an expert compositor. There were six boys in the family, the youngest being

James H.,

The LeClaire (Iowa) Advance had the following, regarding him, in its issue of Dec. 13, 1902.

"The death of James H. Goudy occurred at the home of Dr. James Gamble in LeClaire on Sunday morning, Dec. 8, at the age of 71 years, after an illness of ouly a few days.

James H. Goudy

was born Jan. 26, 1831, at Indianapolis, Ind. In early years he removed with his parents to Springfield, Illinois, where he resided until 1849, when he crossed the Plains to the Pacific coast, stopping at Astoria in the then territory of Oregon.' It should have been stated that he came to Vandalia, Illinois, first, then to Jacksonville, which was his home from 1833 to about 1845, then going to Springfield with his parents and some others of the family.

Resuming the quotation from the LeClaire Advance: "During the Indian Wars of that region from 1852 to 1857 Mr. Goudy and brother, Capt. George B. Goudy, were in the military service of the Government and afterwards was in charge of several Indian Reservations and tribes of Indians. In 1865 he returned to the States and made his home in the family of Dr. Gamble, with his mother and sister, the late Mrs. Eliza Gamble, in LeClaire, Iowa.

A number of years ago Mr. Goudy made a trip to his in Springfield, Ill., and an old newspaper clipping from the "Register" of that time, which gives a summary of his life in the West is here reproduced:

"Mr. J. H. Goudy, whose home is in LeClaire, Iowa, arrived here on Saturday on a visit to David Decamp. He is an old timer and an old gold miner, an Indian fighter and has had some hair breadth escapes.

He went to California in 1849 when the gold fever was in its heat. He has been connected with the Illinois State Register in years gone by. He was living in Springfield when he started to the West. He was employed by the Government as scout in the Indian Wars of 1856 and afterwards he lived with the Indians to show that peace was indeed made with them. He was acquainted with Lincoln and Sheridan, Gen. Crook and many of the old time great men of the past. He is now 64 years of age and wears his golden badge of honor. He made the Register a pleasant call on Saturday and seems to be at home in the print shop.

Again quotating from the LeClaire paper, it said:

"He was a brother of the famous Judge (Hon. Wm. C.) Goudy, who was one of the greatest jurists of the West in his day. Another brother, mentioned above, Capt. James B. Goudy, now long deceased was a well known newspaper man on the Pacific coast. There is living one sister, Mrs. (Maria) Chapman in Indiana.

His funeral occurred Monday afternoon, services being conducted by Rev. P. A. Tinkham, with interment at LeClaire cemetery x x x." Mr. Goudy suffered a severe accident from a runaway in his latter days which produced a handicap to him afterwards.

He used to enjoy telling one among other incidens, in his Indian War experiences:

He was making his way thru the forest one day during the war times, when he saw a young army officer speeding his way on horseback right into the hiding place where Mr. Goudy knew the Indians were. He stopped the Son of Mars, and warned him to take another course, which the young soldier did; and in later years Mr. Goudy was proud to say that he had probably been the means of saving the remarkable life of Lt. Gen. Philip H. Sheridan, whose "Ride" in the Shenandoah Valley has been immortalized by the poet.

Mr. Goudy never married, but he was a plasant man and made many friends

ENGLAND MAY BE FORCED TO STAND AGAINST FRANCE

Said to Be Strong Feeling to This Effect Now

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON March 6—The debate in the house of commons tonight on affairs in the Ruhr reflected the strong growing feeling which has been observed of late in the liberal and labor press deprecating the governments attitude of benevolent neutrality and insisting that England take a definite stand, not necessarily withdrawing her troops from the Rhine, but informing France plainly in a formal note that England disapproves of the French policy and demands that the French government explicitly define its intentions towards Germany.

The prime minister, Bonar Law is winding up the debate declared that France had gained nothing by her Ruhr adventure; on the contrary she had sustained a heavy loss and it was impossible to prophesy the outcome. He admitted that the government had nothing it could propose to the house, and said that perhaps the absence of a policy was bad but to have a policy which could not succeed and which in itself was bad would be even worse.

Mr. Bonar Law argued that it was not a question of M. Poincare or his government. Evidence indicated that with the present French chamber any French government would have been impelled to the same course. Clearly the French policy was supported by both chambers and the French people; therefore the British government had no alternative before it. There were only two courses the prime minister continued—to accept the Ruhr advance with the greatest amount of friendly feeling possible or to break faith and make the two countries practically hostile.

To himself it seemed inevitable that to break the entente would mean the possibility of enforcing England's will on France by war. At this moment France would deeply resent any attempt at mediation. The government had disassociated itself from the French action, but did not desire to quarrel with France if it could possibly be avoided. The government's policy would not change with each debate on the situation. He did not believe for a moment that any French statesman seriously contemplated forming an European bloc against England.

OBITUARY.

Minnie Marie Blimling, wife of Chester Blimling, was born February 16, 1893, on a farm four and a half mile south of Murrayville, where she lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Fisher, until July 20, 1910, at which time she was united in marriage with Chester L. Blimling.

This home was blessed with five children, two having preceded the mother in death, and twin daughters, Nina and Tina, aged eleven years, and Margaret, aged 4 years at home. She is also survived by her devoted husband, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Fisher, and the following brothers and one sister: Claude Fisher, Rockford, Ill.; Frank, of Racine, Wis.; Henry, of Lynnville; and Mrs. R. B. Walker, Glenn, Lee and Fred all of Murrayville, one brother, Tracey, who gave his life in service for his country overseas.

She was a patient sufferer, her last illness being of only short duration. She was taken ill Saturday and constantly grew worse until relief from the dread disease peritonitis, came when the Reaper called her for His own, at 7:40 p. m. Wednesday, February 28, at Passavant hospital in Jacksonville. All that loving hands could do was done for her, but her life work was ended and she was called home.

She confessed her faith in Christ at the age of 15 years, during a revival at Zion M. E. church.

She was a true and devoted wife, a loving mother and a real homemaker. Hers was a quiet and useful life, and she will be sadly mised in her home and community. But our loss is her gain.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Tryouts for the high school debating teams will be held this evening at the close of school hours. Plans are already under way for the annual Tri-City debate and as soon as teams are selected by the local school, work will begin at once. It is possible that the regular tri-city debating event may not be staged this year but there will be a number of inter-city debates. There are a large number of students who will try out for places on the team this afternoon. The judges will be Principal W. L. Kaiser, Miss Elizabeth Russel, Miss Margaret K. Moore, and Miss Minnie Mulberry.

Dean G. H. Scott of Illinois college made a short address to the high school students at the regular assembly period yesterday morning. He talked on the need of a college education and on the good relationship which exists between the high school and college today. Following the assembly hour Dean Scott spoke to the members of the senior class in regard to their plans for next year.

"A Man Without a Country," was the picture shown at the high school last night. It was an excellent film version of Edward Everett Hale's famous story of the same name, and drew a large crowd to the high school auditorium.

The tryouts for the senior play are to be held sometime during this week. The play which has been chosen for presentation is a dramatization of Alice Duer Mitchell's "Come Out of the Kitchen." Following the tryouts the cast will begin work at once as the play is to be given about the middle of April. Miss Helen Gorham and Miss Emma Leonard have charge of the coaching and managing of the play.

Kellogg's Bran is Guaranteed to give relief BECAUSE IT IS ALL BRAN!

Relief from constipation, whether it be mild or chronic, will follow the regular, every-day eating of Kellogg's Bran. We have thousands of letters from former sufferers who tell us that the natural "bulk-action" of this wonderful cereal product has given relief they have not known for years. We guarantee that Kellogg's Bran will free the system from constipation because it is ALL BRAN—not a composition in which bran is added. If constipation is to be permanently relieved, you must eat ALL BRAN—that's why your physician will recommend Kellogg's for constipation.

Constipation creates toxic conditions which poison the blood and every organ of the body. It slows you down mentally and physically, and creates sick headaches, nausea, bad breath, pimples—finally, in many cases, leading to Bright's disease, diabetes and other dreaded illnesses. You must fight constipation with Kellogg's Bran regularly if you want health!

You'll say Kellogg's Bran is really delicious—it has a nut-like flavor that appeals to the most fastidious appetite. Eat it as a cereal, sprinkled on hot or cold cereals or cooked with hot cereals, allowing two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person. Be certain to eat at least two tablespoonfuls each day; as much with each meal in chronic cases. Kellogg's is delicious made into muffins, macaroons, raisin bread, griddle cakes. Recipes in every package. Kellogg's Bran is served by leading hotels, clubs and restaurants in individual packages. It is sold by all grocers.

WILL TAKE NO ACTION AT PRESENT

NEW YORK, March 6.—The New York State Athletic Commission will take no action at present on charges that Harry Greb, former American light heavyweight champion gave $3,000 to New York sporting writers to boom a bout between him and Jack Dempsey, heavy weight title holder, it was announced tonight by William Muldoon, chairman of the commission.

"I personally place no foundatoin in the report," Mr. Muldoon declared, "and believe it is a matter for those interested to thresh out. It was brought informally to the attention of the commission today but I see no necessity for action at present."

The New York World, however, announced tonight it would sift to the bottom the charges which grew out of an article published in the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times, quoting Greb as saying he gave the money to local writers under protest. The result of its investigation The World said, would be laid before Muldoon.

The World today in answer to telegraphic queries, published a denial from Greb that he had made the statement, together with a statement from Charles J. Doyle, writer of the article, insisting he had printed exactly what the pugilist told him.

ELKS LOSE CLOSE GAME TO BLUFFS

Local Tossers Overhauled in Final Minutes of Play After Leading Opponents.

After leading the Bluffs Independents most of the way, the Elks lost a hard fought game in David Prince gymnasium last night by a score of 40 to 37.

The game was an interesting one and should have been witnessed by a large crowd. However, the performance at the Grand and other events served to hold the attendance down.

Both teams put up a much better offensive game than they did on the defense. This served to make the game a good one to watch and the spectators gave frequent approval of the work of the players of both teams.

The contest was a nip and tuck affair thruout. At the half the score was 20 to 18 in favor of the Elks. The local tossers maintained this lead until the game was well along in the second half when Bluffs made a spurt and took the lead and held it until the final whistle.

For the Elks the scoring was done by Seymour, Lewis, Zell, Woods and Cain. Thompson, Heyler and Rolf did the scoring for Bluffs. The score:

WOMAN SHOWS LITTLE EMOTION

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 6.—Emotionless and with half closed eyes Miss Paulette Saludes, French woman on trial for the murder of Oscar Martelliere, broker heard the final arguments of both dfense and prosecution attorneys which occupied the entire session today.

Martelliere was pictured as a "cold blooded viper" by the defense in seeking to justify the shooting. His affections for the defendant, it was declared had cooled after he had obtained her property, her house and her car.

The defense alluded to Mrs. Salues as half crazed from her wrongs and pointed out her frequent attempts to commit suicide in an effort to show she was irrational immediately before and after the broker was shot and killed.

Assistant District Attorney Brothers referred to Mrs. Saludes as a "jealous woman" and declared that "love turned to hate" was the motive for the killing. He belittled the defense plea of temporary insanity.

"If this defendant was a man," the prosecutor said, "I could sit down confident you would convict. But the real defense in this case is 'I am a woman.' "

The case is expected to be given to the jury tomorrow.

EXTRAORDINARY SEA MARIAGE WITNESSES

Sydney—An extraordinary sea mirage was witnessed recently in Spencers Gulf, South Australia by officers of the steamship Trevithick, bound to Fremantle.

The display began with the apearance of a ship ahead of which the smoke and funnels were plainly seen. A little later, between sky and sea apepared a distorted vessel, like the creation of a made shipbuilder, possessing neither lines nor any distinct type of construction, upside down with crazy propellers madly churching the vacant sky.

At one time the display took the form of an inverted picture of dozens of vessels of all sizes, moving in diferent directions. Then suddenly the ships merged into one.

Officers of the Trevithick declared the phenamenon was the most wonderful in their experience.

VICEROY OF INDIA SEES INCREASING COOPERATION

Calcutta.—(By the A. P.)—The viceroy of India, Lord Reading, believes that racial animosity in India has begun to decline, and that a closer cooperation in advancing the work of reform is now to be expected. He expressed these views at a recent dinner here of the European Association.

"We have gone thru some anxious times," he continued, "but the worst of the critical period now is over. There have been days of great strain, but we pursued our path fully convinced that it was right to continue to administer the law, to insist upon order while, at the same time, having regard to the legitimate susceptibilities of Indians, and also to our responsibilities to His Majesty's government and to the British Parliament at home.

"I know not what the future may bring. I cannot picture to myself what the end will be when I leave India. But if it is then felt here that I hace contributed to secure, by however small a step, the peace and prosperity of India, I shall feel sufficiently rewarded."

BANKERS IN JAPAN ARE OPTIMISTIC

Tokio.—(By the A. P.)—The Japanese business world opened the New Year with considesable anxiety as to what the next twelve months will bring forth. Conditions prevailing in December when several small banks went to the wall, owing to their speculative dealings, made forebodings rather pesimistic, but into this cloud Governor Inouye of the Bank of Japan, brought a ray of sunshine. He expressed the view that the gradual decline in the prices of commodities was a hopeful sign and expressed the belief that the fall would continue until the index figure stood at 60 above 1914. Today Japan's index figure stands at 197 compared with 207 in 1921; London's being 167 compared with 187 in 1921 and New York's 154 compared with 124.

Strawn Talks About Dort

There's economy, also satisfaction, in giving your car the once-over at regular intervals, and once a week is not too often.

While engineering advances and sturdy construction have developed the modern motor car to a point where it will permit of considerable neglect, there is a limit to all things and it will prove costly to cross the dead line on the question of service.

The motorist should consider his car an investment and it is a matter of good business to take care of it the same as he does his otheir possessions. When an automobile is allowed to run-down-at-the-heel, the owner finds his repair bills mounting in an alarming manner.

To the average motorist some of the complicated motor cars present an unpleasant task when any service work needs to be done, but the Dort is different. Accessibility of parts was one of the first principles built into the Dort Four and it has been more prominently continued in the new Dort Six so that the owner has more fun than hard work in keeping his Dort fit and ready.

Another feature that every motorist should consider in servicing his car is that the use of so-caller "pirate-parts" shortens the life of a car and causes inconvenience and worry. Dort parts are manufactured for all models of Dort cars and under no circumstances should any other parts be used.

Quite a saving can be made and much satisfaction gained from regular inspection on the part of owner and the use of legitimate parts. There is no other short continuous motoring pleasure, and that is what every owner is entitled to, whether his car is used for business or pleasure.

TO ERECT MAUSOLEUM AT DIAMOND GROVE

Cemetery Commission Completes Arrangements With Valley Company of Chicago.

At a recent conference it was decided by the cemetery commission of Jacksonville to complete arrangements with the Valley Mausoleum company of Chicago for the erection of mausoleum at Diamond Grove cemetery. As a standard for the mausoleum here the plans and specifications of a mausoleum erected by this company at Astoria were accepted with the further agreement that any increase in size will be accompanied by a proportionate increase in the strength of the structure.

This action which will be of such general interest to the public, was taken at a recent meeting of the cemetery commission, the session being attended by Mayor Crabtree, Alderman T. A. Chapin and City Engineer Henderson.

Representatives of the mausoleum company were Messrs. Caruthers and Bailey, together with Sidney Lovell, also of Chicago, architect for the company.

Plans of Rose Hill mausoleum in Chicago, of Vallhalla mausoleum at St. Louis and a similar structure in Forest Hill cemetery at Kansas City were submitted together with complete plans and specifications for a 300 crypt mausoleum now in process of erection at Astoria.

C. H. Russell, chairman of the cemetery commission, and the other members have considered this whole subject with great care and have found that the Valley Mausoleum company is exceedingly well recommended as to business methods and financial integrity by bankers and public officials in cities where the company has erected mausoleums.

The structure at Diamond Grove cemetery is to be at least equal in size to that at Astoria and probably larger. It will cover 3,250 square feet of ground and will be located at a place in the cemetery which will be convenient of access and the location will also be chosen with a view of beautifying the cemetery.

AUTO INN PASSES TO NEW CONTROL

Big Court Street Home for Automobiles Leased to Peoria Man.

Announcement was made yesterday that A. B. Smith of Peoria has leased the Auto property on East Court street from Howard Zahn. It is understood that the lease made runs thru a period of years for this valuable property and that Mr. Smith purchased the stocks of accessories that Mr. Zahn carried at the Inn.

Mr. Smith who has been for a number of years connected with the accessory business, also has familiarity with garage management. He has visited Jacksonville a number of times and was impressed with the capacity of the Auto Inn building and its general conveniences. His belief is that the storage and parking business can be greatly increased and the accessory department further developed.

Mr. Smith who is already known to a number of Jacksonville men, comes to the city with the best of recommendations and will no doubt be an acceptable addition to the business life of Jacksonville. His family will soon come from Peoria to live here. G. H. Peck and Louis Kelly are to remain in Mr. Smith's employ.

JUNIOR HIGH BOYS TO BE LEGION GUESTS

Ex-Service Men Hope to Foster Educational Interest — Batallion of Militia Coming for the Hospital Dedication.

At a meeting of the Jacksonville post of the American Legion last night the post took action with the purpose of maintaining the interest of junior high school boys in educational work. Some time before the close of the school year the post will hold a banquet at which all junior high boys in the senior class will be their guests.

It will be the purpose at that time to list the names of all boys who expect to attend the high school and all those who do not have such expectation. Then the thought is to give aid to any boys who may be leaving school because of the seeming necessity for earning money.

The public will be much interested in knowing that the Legion has just been given assurance from the adjutant general's department that a batallion of militia, including at least one company of cavalry, will be in Jacksonvile for the dedication of the disabled war veterans hospital in June. This batallion of militia will of course form a very interesting part of the parade on that day.

The Legion selected Homer Bradney vice commander in place of Virgil Edwards, who is now located in Detroit, Mich., as a representative of the Powers-Begg company.

Various matters of business were discused and the sesion was one of the busiest that the Legion has held in recent months.

WILL CONTINUE DOLLAR DAY BARGAINS

People in and around Jacksonville will find a visit to the stores of the city this week especially worth while.

COURTESY GREAT NEED IN BANKING

L. W. Liberman In Address To Farrell State Bank Officers and Employes Stressed Value of Politeness.

Officers, directors and employes of the Farrell State bank yesterday had the advantage of an all day visit from Mr. Lee W. Liberman of the Greenebaum Sons Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago. Mr. Liberman who was for eighteen years connected with the Hearst publications, has been associated with the Greenebaum institution for the past eight years, and thru his special work based particularly upon the creed of "courtesy and service" has been largely instrumental in the rapid growth of the Greenebaum bank.

Mr. Liberman has laid special emphasis upon the need for politeness in the conduct of a bank that he has earned the title of "Courtesy Expert." It sounds somewhat casual to refer to the need of politeness in the conduct of banking or any other business, but the results that the application of Mr. Liberman's ideas have attained aford plenty of evidence that the sort of courtesy that he urges is a new thing in banking—at any rate in Chicago financial institutions.

That it is also a new idea in the smaller cities is indicated by the fact that now Mr. Liberman accepts four or five invitations a month to make talks on politeness to bank officers and employes.

By chance E. E. Crabtree, president of the Farrell State bank, met Mr. Liberman in Chicago a few weeks since. The Jacksonville men was so much impressed at that time by Mr. Liberman's ideas and methods that he invited him to visit this city and he date was fixed as March 6.

Mr. Liberman spent nearly all of the day time hours in the Farrell bank and met with the officers and employes at the ePacock Inn at a 6 o'clock dinner. After the dinner Mr. Liberman made an informal address in which he told what the application of the principles of politeness had helped to do for the Greenebaum bank, and cited instances to show the bad effects of the lack of politeness. The talk was made in the freest sort of way with suggestions for both officers and employes.

The officers were told that they needed to show courtesy and consideration to their employes and employes heard that the future holds little for them if they simply do the duties assigned. Mr. Liberman stressed the thought too that service must go along with courtesy, and that in the building of a bank the zeal for new accounts must be impressed upon the thought of officers, directors and employes alike.

This very interesting and successful Chicago banker gave the following as the creed of the bank with which he is connected:

To be obliging, courteous, and fair to our customers—

To always render full measure of service to each patron—

To insist that every employee treats our patrons with respect—

To remember that kindness and gentleness wil win the respect of those with whom we come in contact—

To never forget that our customers are responsible for our success—

To always bear in mind that a man with a smile is a man worth while.

We have assumed the above obligation.

Will you help us live up to it?

TWO MORE HERRIN RIOT SURVIVORS ON STAND YESTERDAY

Identify Three Out of Six Defendants on Trial

(By The Associated Press)

MARION, Ill., March 6—Two more survivors of the Herrin riots of last June testifying for the prosecution at the second trial growing out of the outbreak, today pointed out three of the six defendants as having taken an active part in the disorders which resulted in the slaying of three union miners and twenty-two non-union workers. The witness, Otis Lawrence of Louisville, Ky., a fireman and Bernard Jones of Chicago, an armed guard, substantiated details of the story told on the witness stand yesterday by William Cairns another survivor. All three agreed that the non-union workers in the mine of the Southern Illinois Coal company had been attacked on the afternoon of June 21 and that they had surrendered the next morning after being promised safe conduct.

After the prisoners had marched about a mile, according to Lawrence a new leader appeared whom he identified as Otis Clark one of the defendants.

The march continued Lawrence and Jones testified and some men drove up in an automobile which they were unable to identify altho they heard a shout:

"Here comes the president, here comes Willis."

"Someone suggested that we be killed, one by one," Lawrence asserted, "but the man they called 'the president' declared, 'you can't shoot them an the public highway. Take them over to the woods and shoot them or send them away in a body'."

It was here that Antonio Mulkovitch, a veteran of the world war was slain. The six men on trial, including Hugh Willis state board member of the Illinois mine workers are charged with his murder.

The two witnesses pointed out James Brown, a negro, Phillip Fontanetta and Clark as men they had seen in the death march carrying guns. All of them are defendants in the present case.

"You know there was apt to be trouble and you were willing to stay and take a chance on killing or being killed?" Jones was asked on cross-examination.

The witness admitted that he knew he was engaged in strike breaking work and had shot at the men firing into the mine.

"You were engaged in trying to kill the people of Williamson county," he was asked and replied:

"I was trying to kill the people who were trying to kill me."

In what Judge D. T. Hartwell said was the first adverse ruling to the state, he refused to put John Pittman, a pumpman at the mine to testify because his name had not been certified to the defense before the jury was completed.

DOCUMENT RECALLS SOME EARLIER DAYS

R. J. Sheppard of Woodson was very much interested in finding an advertisement issued in June, 1852, for the "ninth volume of the Morgan Journal, an independent weekly journal of literature and news published every Saturday morning at the northeast corner of the square in Jacksonville, Ill."

The advertisement which was signed by P. Selby and A. C. Clayton, goes on to say that the publishers are glad to announce that the Journal is entering upon its ninth volume under the most favorable circumstances and that during the last four months the circulation has increased from 700 to over 1,000.

"This increase of patronage," Mr. Selby and Mr. Clayton said, "is unprecedented in the history of newspapers in Morgan county and while it affords the publishers the most gratifying evidence of the favor with which their efforts to furnish a good family paper have been received, it stimulates them to still greater efforts for the future.'

Mr. Sheppard found this old announcement under the flooring in an old house which is being torn down on the Paul farm near Woodson. This was in pioneer days the home of Thornton Sheppard, the great grandfather of R. J. Sheppard.

SPRINGFIELD WOMAN DIES AT WHITE HALL HOSPITAL

White Hall, March 6.—The remains of Miss Nomie E. Barry were taken to Springfield today for funeral and burial on Wednesday. Her death in Walton hospital at 12:45 a. m., Monday was the result of an attack of pneumonia that came upon her five days before her death, and she was taken to Walton hospital that day following the attack, where her life became despaired of. She was 57 years of age, and comes from an old Springfield family that went to Springfield at the time Governor Mattison assumed the reins of government, and the family has since resided there, but the only survivor of the family at the old home place at 114 East Edwards street is Mrs. George Hesser, a sister of the deceased. Another sister, Mrs. John Rierdan, resides a long Beach, Calif. The deceased was a sister-in-law of Judge Doocy of Pittsfield.

The deceased had been in White Hall most of the time for the past year, assisting in the care of her niece, Mrs. Lynn C. Smith, and children, and had been here at times for the past several years becoming well and most favorably known. The sister, Mrs. Hesser, arrived from Springfield Monday to arrange for the remains being taken to Springfield.

COMMENDS PICTURE TEACHING PATRIOTISM

I wish in this way to express my great appreciation of the picture given at the high school Tuesday night, "The Man Without a Country." It has been years since so fine a patriotic picture has been shown in Jacksonville, and the only regret is that many more people did not see it. The dramatic representation of Alexander Hamilton and his feud with Aaron Burr, the scenes leading up to the Burr controversy were all wonderfully lifelike and true to history, the film following very closely the story written by Edward Everett Hale.

The silent reverence and attention of the audience was very noticeable and the effect of such a picture upon the minds of the young people cannot be measured. The scenes in the life of Philip Nolan were taken on the old ship Constitution. Only once was the quiet of the audience broken by applause and that was at the appearance of Abraham Lincoln in a Civil war scene.

The scenes of this picture were taken in historic places which added greatly to the value from a historic standpoint.

MYSTERY OF "THE BAT" MADE CLEAR TO MANY

Hundreds of Jacksonville people Are Let in on Secret at Thrilling Performance Tuesday Evening—Suspense and Scenic Effects Make Play Powerful.

A play that lets its witnesses into a secret, which they are requested by the management not to reveal is "The Bat." It is said that no one who sees the play ever reveals the secret to one who has not. Hundreds of Jacksonville people were let into the mystery of this powerful play last evening when it was given by an all star cast at the Grand opera house.

Every actor and actress in the company showed the marked ability that goes with a real lover of the actor's art. The expert character portrayal, coupled with clever scenic effects and a mystery plot that baffles all solution until the fall of the final curtain, kept the large audience in thrills and tremors during the entire evening.

The power of "The Bat" lies in its rapid movement and the continued suspense. The whole purpose of the writer and performers of the production seems expressed in these two points. All that is done in the play and the literary structure of it contribute to the carrying out of these ideas.

Anyone who followed the play closely, and that seemed to be the attitude of the entire audience was kept in a nervous strain thruout the entire three acts. However, relief and surprise came at the end. The secret was revealed; but in order not to spoil the effect of the drama he who understands it must tell no man what he has seen and heard.

LEGION TO PROTECT INCAPACITATED VETERANS

Indianapolis, Ind.—Money allotted to mentally incompetent and insane ex-service men, administered thru their guardians, must be spent in the proper manner, else action against the guardian will be taken by the American Legion thru its national rehabilitation committee.

Joe Sparks, chairman of the committee, has stated that in a number of cases of the unfortuate veterans have diverted the funds assigned by the government to their own use, affording the man for whom the money was intended only the bare necessities of life.

Legion service officers have been instructed to place all cases of mismanagement by guardians of veterans' affairs in the hands of civil authorities.

Morgan County Poets

The following poem first appeared in a February issue of The Musical Leader, Chicago.

THE VIOLINCELLIST

(To B. Sykora, in appreciation of his recital at the Illinois Woman's College)

By grace of skill the hierarch
And master of the spirits four
That at your invocation soar
And sing above this fragile ark,

Sykora, let us tribute pay,
Not as of yore, on bended knee,
Yet no less true and loyal we
In form and manner of the day,

When from this magic cell of maple,
Hewed by man, but glorified
Of God, who did the flesh provide,
Of ancient sacrifice the staple,

You draw commanding wealth of tone,
Acceptable, we trust, to Him,
The Lord amongst the Cherubim,
Nor to the worshippers alone;

Draw marvelous resource of speech,
The music language of today—
Ah, how profoundly to convey
The gospel which your fingers preach.

What generations in the past
Have been diverted by the sway
Of this frail arch—and gone their way,
For life nor music cannot last;

And centuries may trail along
Ere it be mute among the arts,
As ears to which it spoke, as hearts
Of old enraptured with its song.

Like you, what other priests in turn
Will come, and quick'ning lays invoke
Of charm and prophecy, for folk
Who follow us to live and yearn;

Whilst mocking years your temples wreathe,
With gray instead of green, and here
You wait translation to that sphere
Where music is the air we breathe.

—JOHN KEARNS.

HINMAN DISCUSSES CO-OP. ENTERPRISES

Writing in the Chicago Herald and Examiner, George W Hinman an economist of national reputation says:

"About 250 co-operative business enterprises have collapsed in a year. This information comes close upon the statement of a United States senator that the whole world is taking up co-operation as the only proper way of doing business.

"At the same time one February magazine contends, in a long article that co-operative business is advancing rapidly in the United States, and another February magazine in an equally long article contends that co-operative business has only a limited field and never can do the work of the middleman or retailer.

"The argument runs all the way from Senator Brookhart's contention that England will do nothing but co-operative business twenty years hence to the contention of a Chicago coal dealer that all co-operative business is a fraud and must collapse. What is the truth?

"Two hundred and fifty co-operative enterprises have been reported from Washington as failures in one year. These enterprises failed for the usual business reasons—too little capital, too many bad bills, too few patrons, too loose management. This means that co-operative business succeeds or fails for the same reasons as other business undertakings. That is all.

Will Not Absorb Business

"Therefore co-operation won't absorb the business of the world, as some co-operators hope. Nor will it fail utterly, as many business men argue. The big Co-operative Wholesale Society of Great Britain has the best record of all the large co-operative enterprises. Yet its membership is but one-tenth of the British population and its business is only a small fraction of all Britain business.

"What will prevent this business and membership from growing indefinitely, keep it from absorbing all the population and all the occupations of Great Britain? The same things that will prevent the same development in the United States. Chiefly this—that the hated middleman, in the handling and delivering of our food and clothes, does things which have to be done by somebody and have to be paid for some how. If the middleman, the retailer, doesn't do things for us, then the co-operatives have to do them, pay for them and collect the cost from the public. These facts set a narow limit to co-operation as a business reform. For instance:

"Even if all our food and clothes were to be manufactured co-operatively and sold from co-operative warehouses, what would we find? As Mr. Sydney Anderson has explained, the co-operators would still have to reckon with the wages of the men who operate railway trains, the men who drive trucks, the men who operate machines, the men who nail boxes, the men who wrap packages and the men who make the deliveries to the families that pay for the goods. And in paying for the goods even a co-operative family has to hand out enough money to cover its share of all these wages, as well as the wage increases that have driven up retail prices in the last few years.

No Cheaper Work

"Workingmen do not work any more cheaply for a co-operative concern than for others. That is sure. And, as wages at present are a main part of the cost of living, the co-operative business is as hard hit as business of the ordinary sort.

"Of course, if co-operative warehouses could be opened, and the people could be induced to travel miles for the purpose of buying thread and beefsteak from a central station, and the wage-earners in between could be dismissed and the whole process could be worked out in actual life as it is depicted in the books, we all would co-operate, wipe out the middleman and save a good bit of money. But it can't be done. Lazy men and busy housewives would still insist on buying from the corner groceries or cigar shops, would refuse to ride miles on street cars to patronize central stores or co-operative warehouses, and generally would despise the idea of centering their whole life on co-operating to save money.

"Very homely reasons—yes, but if followed out to their natural conclusions they show why certain co-operatives fail and others succeed, why the ordinary business man need not fear he will be pushed off the boards by the co-operative movement

"Co-operation will not fail because 250 of its enterprises have gone to the wall. That is sure. But it never will take over the whole business of the United States and Great Britain, as Senator Brookhart expects and as propagandists prophesy."

EMILE BOLA, the great French realist, once said that there is no satisfaction in this life equal to the contemplation of some work well done.

The service rendered to others is a privilege, the deward for whic hlies in the contemplation of its fullness, its unselfishness and its integrity.

Upon these things alone is founded succes, for success, as the world understands it today, is measured by appreciation of service rendered rather than by an accumulation of material things.

"To the Advantage of Consumers and the Public"

A court in Wisconsin declared recently that "the marketing policies of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) work to the advantage of consumers and the public."

The LaFollette investigating committee in Washington brought out facts which proved the same thing.

The investigation of this Committee developed, we believe, just why the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been uniformly successful, and why it has within the comparatively few years of its existence contributed so materially to our national prosperity—more particularly the prosperity in the Middle West.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) attributes its success primarily to the fact that it earnestly desires to render the public a complete cycle of essential service, from oil well to refinery, to the consumer.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a large retailer of its own products. It maintains for this purpose a distribution system which for size, thoroughness, and efficiency is unequalled in the world. It maintains and expands its business solely on a basis of quality and service.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has steadfastly maintained the policy of minimizing the spread between manufacturing costs and retail selling prices. This has meant, and means today a low price for gasoline and other petroleum products as compared with other essential commodities. A glance through any Department of Labor Bulletin featuring comparative prices for necessities will demonstrate this fact.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of its success. It believes that its methods are exceptionally efficient. It believes that in many instances they have been a valuable contribution to the country's economic progress. It believes that the Company's activities redound to the advantage of the consumer and the public.

WESTMINSTER NOTES

Tonight there is to be a congregational supper at 6:30. The committee consists of Mrs. Thos. W. Smith, Mrs. William Walton, Mrs. George S. Rogers and others. After the supper there will be a fine, up-to-date lecture upon "The Challenge of Japan's new Day," illustrated by a number of remarkable stereoptican slides. This will be followed by an important conference of the teams that will make the every-member canvass next Sunday. The supper will cast 25 cents per plate.

A bequest of $1,000 has come to the church from Mrs. James E. Munroe, late of Chicago. This will be the start of a fund which will be used later to make some important improvements in the Westminister plant.

"The Dawn of Christianity" will be the title of the film to be shown next Sunday evening. It will be a strong presentation of some most wonderful scenes from the life of Christ. Dr. Smith will preach upon "The Divine Hero."

The every-member canvass to be undertaken next Sunday is the effort to enlist all the membership of the church in contributing to missions at home and abroad. It's purpose is to set forth the importance of every one doing something to support the work carried on by the Board of the church.

The Boy Scouts will try for another 100 per cent attendance at their meeting Thursday, 7:15 p. m. Last week they missed one Scout at the beginning of the meeting but sent a committee to go down town and bring him from a basket ball game. He came and made the attendance 100 per cent.

NEW FORM OF INSURANCE DESIGNED

Chicago.A new form of insurance has been developed by the Theodore Roosevelt post of the American Legion here in its Zero Hour Club. This subsidiary organization within the post proposes to pay a benefit of $100 to the beneficiary of any of its members who die, immediately upon receipt of notice of his death. The plan, post officials assert, will work for relief of a veteran's beneficiary by tiding him over the period which elapses between the death and the time when insurance companies begin payment of life insurance.

Officers of the Zero Hour Club also are officers of the Legion post, and only accredited members in good standing are eligible to become participants in the club. Members pay annual dues of $2.50 and the further assessment of $1 upon the death of any of the club's members.

January Was Another 100,000 Month for Ford Car Sales

The total cars sold during January was 100,118 according to advices just received from the Ford Motor Company at Detroit making the tenth consecutive month in which sales have run over the 100,000 mark.

And while this means that in the last ten months more than one million Ford cars have been sold, the really remarkable feature is that four of these months were fall and winter months during which the average expectation of sales is only about sixty per cent of the spring and summer business.

But since April last, the first month when sales topped the 100,000 line, there has been no slackening and every month since has brought in sales totalling more than 100,000, something unprecedented in the automobile world.

Several things have contributed to this unusual sales record, principal of which is the fact that since last October Ford prices have been at the lowest level ever reached in the history of the company. Organized sales drives have been most effectively carriad on, resulting in an awakening of the motoring public to the fact that the Ford is as dependable and practical in winter as it is in summer.

Another noticeable factor is that a man of moderate means, ambitious to own an automobile and who a few months ago looked to much higher priced cars to satisfy his desire, is rapidly convincing himself that he can better afford a Ford car which calls for less investment, less upkeep expense and has the greatest service facilities. New improvements and refinements in all Ford cars, both open and enclosed models, have contributed much in this respect.

Production at the Ford plant for 1923 will be established at 6000 cars and trucks a day, and this output will be reached about April 1st. With the first month in the year starting off with sales in excess of 100,000, indications are that absorption is going to run close to this high production schedule.

RAIN AND SNOW REPORT HAVE BEARISH EFFECT

CHICAGO, March 6.—Reports of general rain and snow in the drought area of the Southwest had a bearish effect on the wheat market today. Prices closed weak at ⅛c to ⅝c net decline, with May $1.18¼ to $1.18⅜ and July $1.14½ to $1.14¼. Corn lost ¾ to 1¼c, and oats ⅜@½c to ¾@⅞c. In provisions the outcome varied from a setback of 5c to a rise of 2½ to 5c.

Weather developments were the reverse of what had been expected by the bulls in the wheat market. News of moisture over much of western Kansas was in particular considered important as that section has for a long time been the most persitent dry spot on the map. During the early dealings, however, speculative buying of wheat on the part of traders who simultaneously were selling corn gave a temporary upturn to wheat values, but when this buying of wheat was at an end the wheat market showed weakness thruout the remainder of the day.

Seling of May wheat here against purchases at Winnipeg exercised a depressing influence at times, being directly at variance with the tactics of spreaders yesterday when the wheat market here was scoring an advance.

On the other hand, some usually well-informed authorities said they were convinced that domestic farm reserves of all grain were low especialy wheat. Nevertheless aside from wet weather bulls were under an evident handicap because of unresponsiveness which Liverpool quotations showed to yesterday's advance on this side of the Atlantic. Corn and oat were weakened by seling based more or less on the fact that tocks of corn in Chicago are double the average for the last fifteen years.

Despite a decline in hog values, provisions showed firmness owing chiefly to an advance in lard price at Lverpool.

NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—Switching of speculative interest from one group to another combined with profit-taking and short selling in a number of the recently popular issues marked a decidedly irregular trend to prices in today's stock market. The violent fluctuations in a number of individual shares were generally construed as suggestive of the last phase of a "bull" market but opinions of expert observers are still widely divided as to when the rising tendency of prices which has gone on with occasional interruptions for the last two years will end. Several of the usual leaders were inclined to be sluggish, United States Steel closing ⅛c lower at 107¾. Other steels also were inclined to be reactionary but the loses were held to fractions.

Equipments showed the most consistent strength. Baldwin touched 141½ and closed at 139⅞ up 1⅞ buying being based on speculatiive expectation that $10,000,000 new business would be taken on monthly for some time to come. Pressed Steel Car was the individual feature in that group touching 73, a new top and closing at 71½, up 5 on the day. American Locomotive approached within a very small fraction of 131 and closed 1⅞ higher at 130.

The pyrotechnics of the session were again furnished by the motor accesory issues. Stewart-Warner Speedometer, the individual star falling from 121 to 113 and then rallying to 117½, off 2½ on the day. Stromberg Carbureter converted an early gain of two points into a net loss of 3. Bosch Magneto offered better resistence touching 60 a new top and closing at 57½, up 4¼ on the day.

Rails were again reactionary with trading comparatively dull.

Oils were again heavily traded in General Asphalt common and preferred leading the advance with net gains of 5¼ and 3½ points, respectively each at new high levels. Central Leather was in heavy demand just before the close touching 40 a new top and 2¼ points above last night's close.

Call money again held at 5 per cent thruout the day.

Time money continues active with brokers paying 5¼ per cent for all dates. Commercial paper is moderately active with the prime names commanding 5 per cent.

United States government bonds showed some irregularily in the early dealings but strengthened perceptibly. Liberty 3½s dropped 12 cents on $100 but al the other active issues showed gains of 1½ to 4 per cent.

Do you know of any reason why you should not use

Veedol Oil?

We know several why you should

IF KING TUT HAD BANKED HIS MONEY

If King Tut had turned his estimated wealth of $15,000,000. into money and placed this sum in a Savings Account in this bank at 3% Compound Interest, he would now be worth $7,144,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000.

Of course there really isn't any such sum of money. No word has ever been invented to describe it. It would exceed the wealth of the world many times over.

The power of compound interest is worth considering. It keeps your money doubling for you. If you haven't a Savings Account now, open one in this bank today and put your money on an interest-earning basis.

FIFTY PURE BRED PIGS GIVEN AWAY

Jacksonville Merchants Will Give Them to Boys and Girls in Local Trade Area.

About fifty pure bred pigs and portable hog houses are to be given away by Jacksonville merchants to boys and girls living in the local trade area, according to a plan of trade extension which will be carried out by the commercial division of the Chamber of Commerce. A special meeting of this division will be held this morning for the purpose of making definite plans as to the method of staging this project.

To some boy or girl in each community in the Jacksonville trading area a pure bred pig, valued at $75 and a portable hog house and pen will be given by Jacksonville merchants in this trade extension project. The hogs will be bought in Morgan county from some of the best stock of local breeders. The portable hog houses are being manufactured in Jacksonville and the whole project will therefore be of local nature. The outfit to be given away with each hog includes a portable hog house, a portable fence which will enclose a 28 foot lot and a portable trough for feeding. With this equipment and a pure bred hog, the lucky boys and girls will be prepared to start in the hog raising business.

At a meeting of Jacksonville merchants, held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Monday morning, it was decided to adopt this plan as a trade extension project. It was voted that the details of the matter be left to the executive board of the commercial division and at the meeting this morning the final arrangements will be made.

TRAFFIC COMMITTEE MEETING THIS EVENING

A meeting of the traffic committee of thirty-seven selected by Mayor E. E. Crabtree several months ago, will be held this evening at 7:30 in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. This meeting is being held for the purpose of hearing a report of the advisory traffic committee which has worked out a detailed plan of solving the traffic congestion in the business district.

Chairman T. C. McVicar of the advisory committee will present a map which the committee has drawn up, showing parking spaces, boulevards, and traffic regulations as recommended by members of the committee. All the city officials have been invited to this meeting and a large crowd is expected.

POLICE RAID CRAP GAME; ARREST FOUR

Boys are Captured in Alley in Third Ward Tuesday Afternoon—Released After Warning That Second Offense Would Mean Punishment.

Tuesday afternoon. Patrolmen Baker and Reynolds of the local police force raided a dice game in the third ward and arrested four boys, who were discovered rolling the bones in an alley. For sometime police have received complaints of citizens in the neighborhood that the boys were shooting craps in the alley, and as the assembling place was near one of the principal streets, it was becoming a nuisance.

Twice police visited the spot, but evidently at the wrong time, as there was no game in progress and no boys in sight. However, Tuesday afternoon Patrolman Baker learned that the boys were at their game, and he and Howard Reynolds raided the alley. They captured four boys and took them to the station.

No fine was imposed on the young offenders; but they were given a good lecture and warned that a second offense would mean more serious punishment. After a few hours in the station cells, the boys were released.

TOURIST RECEPTION COMMITTEE TO MEET

The tourists' reception committee will meet this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce headquarters to hear reports of the sub-committees which have been figuring the costs of signs, markings, brick stoves and other commodities for the use of Jacksonville visitors during the coming season. A map of the city, made by the Illinois Steel Bridge company, will be presented at this meeting, showing the principal points of interest in Jacksonville.

The committee will inspect this map and make suggestions as to other places of importance to be marked. The map will then be reduced in size so that it will fit on a folder which is to be made up to be given to tourists passing thru Jacksonville this summer. In addition to the map there will also be printed facts of interest about the city and Jacksonville boosters hope in this way to make visitors familiar with our city as they pass thru. Every thing will be done this year to have visitors leave the city with a favorable impression of Jacksonville in their minds.

TEST TRAINS GROW IN SIZE AND SPEED

Test merchandise trains are still being run on the Burlington from St. Louis to Beardstown by way of Litchfield and the local Burlington branch. Various roads from St. Louis to Litchfield have been used, and now the Wabash is being tried out in an effort to find the best possible route for the freight traffic.

The tonnage of the trains has been gradually increased from 2,000 to 2,700 tons, and apparently the tests are proving successful, both as to the amount which can be hauled and the time in which the trip can be made. Recently one train made the trip from St. Louis to Beardstown in nine hours, leaving St. Louis at 10:30 in the morning and arriving at Beardstown at 7:30 that night.

DONATION IS MADE TO PASSAVANT FUND

Mrs. E. W. Brown, who is chairman of the committee in charge of the Isolation Ward Fund of Passavant hospital, recently received a donation of $13.25 for this fund. The gift came from the Ashland Woman's club, and was turned over to Mrs. Brown by the president, Mrs. Edward Beggs.

The Ashland ladies held a Washington tea during the latter part of February, from which the above sum was realized. Many other substantial gifts for the isolation ward project are constantly being made by various organizations and individuals in the various communities which the hospital serves.

HARE PROMISES TO LOCATE ELSEWHERE

"Lal" Hare, who with two others, was recently arrested by local police after a fight, has been released from the station, and has promised the officers that he will leave town. He is a brother of Lloyd "Red" Hare, one of the others arrested for fighting, who was sent back to Chester penitentiary.

Altho never apprehended for any serious crime, "Lal" Hare is considered by police to be an undesirable citizen. His promise to leave the city and stay away for good obtained his release from custody.

B. Andre, chairman, Frank Plouer and Fletcher Hopper, will meet at the Chamber of Commerce at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

With the coming of the warm weather, Milady—and her husband are becoming interested in the spring offerings of Dame Fashion. C. OF C. TO BOOST THE STATE POLICE BILL

Chamber of Commerce in eighty-seven Illinois cities, and other organizations with three-quarters of a million members, will send delegations to a state wide rally in Springfield at noon next Thursday, March 8, in behalf of a state police force for Illinois. The meeting has been called by the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, which has led in the fight for a state police for the last two years.

Captain George P. Dutton, deputy superintendent of the New York state troopers, will be the chief speaker. The New York state troopers occupy a place in the front rank of state police forces in the United States. They have reduced crime, saved the state more than their total cost of operation, and won the respect and co-operation of every class of citizen, including one governor, who attempted to disband and later apoligized for his mistake. Notwithstanding this fact, a lobbyist representing the American Federation of Labor appeared at the recent state police hearing conducted by the military affairs committee of the Illinois legislature and branded the New York troopers as a set of outlaws engaged principally in persecuting women and children. Captain Dutton, a fighting veteran of many campaigns, resents all such comments, and eagerly accepted the invitation of the Illinois Chamber to come to Illinois and tell the truth about the New York troopers.

Senate bill 49, introduced by Senator Henry M. Dunlap of Savoy, provides for the creation of a state police in Illinois. This bill has been recommended for passage by the senate committee. It has the active endorsement not only of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, but of the local Chambers of Commerce in eighty-seven Illinois cities, the executive committee of the American Legion of Illinois, the Illinois Agricultural association and forty-three county farm bureaus, the Illinois Bankers' asociation, the insurance federation of Illinois, the Building Contractors' association of Illinois, and the Chicago Motor club and various other motor clubs representing 700,000 automobile owners.

The state police committee of the Illinois Chamber, which speaks for all the other organizations, is composed of John S. Brown, manufacturer of Monmouth, chairman; Frank F. Barth of Chicago, secretary; L. M. Harvey of Ottawa, hotel proprietor; W. G. Johnston, of Rock Island, banker; E. P. Imboden of Decatur, farmer; Royal N. Allen, of the Chicago Motor club; George E. Baker, of Belleville, manufacturer; Albert Eldridge of Paris, insurance; C. W. Olson of Chicago, secretary Insurance Federation of Illinois; M. A. Graettinger of Chicago, secretary Illinois Bankers' association; and Leo P. Cummings of Chicago.
